

Know which healthcare brands are about to spend.

Pharma and biotech companies are some of the largest brand marketers in America, and their budgets move on a clock you can read in advance: a trial result, an FDA decision, a launch, a new deal. Ambrosia tracks that clock every day from primary sources. We propose putting it to work behind MSG's healthcare and life-sciences partnership category, so your team reaches the right brand in the months before the budget is set.

700+ life-science companies profiled and tracked	1,400+ source-verified licensing and M&A deals since 2017
562 diseases and conditions mapped to their companies	12 therapeutic areas, from oncology to women's health

Daily

refresh from SEC, FDA, ClinicalTrials.gov and wires

The healthcare spend clock WHAT WE SEE, AND WHEN

Most partnership teams learn about a launch when the campaign breaks. We see it at the first step.

What MSG's partnerships team gets FIND · WIN · KEEP

FIND

Category radar

A monthly ranked list of pharma, biotech, medtech and health-system brands entering a spending window, with a focus on consumer-facing conditions that suit a New York audience.

Output: ranked targets, the event behind each one, and who decides.

WIN

Pitch intelligence

Before each meeting, a brief on the brand: launch timing, competitors, forecast sales, the patients it wants to reach, and why an MSG partnership fits now.

Output: a one-page brief in your seller's hands before the call.